Smarrie June 7 - The loss by yesterday's Sharrid June?—The loss by yesterduy's fire with reach $10,000,000, out already in a number of places worksheil have begun to grade and clean up ors preparatory to rebuilding. Many merchants have scenced quarters in the residence portion of the city and are been this morning with the remaints of the stock saved from the fire. The people have decided to rebuild the city with brok and stone. This decision was reached quickly and almost unanimously at a meeting held this meming. A call was published in this morning's physics, as king the citizens to convene at ing. A cell was published in this mornings pulpers, asking the citize is to convene at the Regimenta armory at 11 o'clock to consider he matter and, ways and means. The question dicussed was, "What shall we do under the traing earci metances?" The a tendance was large. Previous to the calling of the assembly get to order, those present gathered together in small groups and earning the convention of the strategies.

Not a single long face is to be seen. No one not aware of the facts would have imagined that the assembly was in the midst of a calamity. The air of cheerful carriestness was surprising. At eleven o'clock, Mayor Moran called the meeting to order by rapping on a lable at one side of the large hall. I unsentately he was surrounded by 100 or 000 citizens, erch one on active business both. No more carnest gathering was ever used anywhere. Mayor Moran stated that the city council was to hold adheeting tenight, and desired an expression of opinion on two important questions. They were as to whether they hould permit the EVERYBOOT CHEERFUL. were as t whother they hould permit the erection of wooden buildings within the fire limits, and whether several important businesseries should be straightened and made wider. Judge floyt thought a suspension of the fire limit ordinance for one year would be invoced by the business community.

O Morals Haller said if a wooden building is erected, it, with remain until burned down. He thought that no wooden buildings should be received within the fire inits. The remarks of this specker were received.

with such applause, that no subsequent speaker said anything in aver a permitting the creetion of emporary frame buildings. VA 3 JUS COMMITTERS APPOINTED.

The other speakers were ex-Governor E. P. Ferry Jacob Furth, Anglis Mackintosh, Judge C. H. Hinford and ex-Governor Watson C. Schire. Each spoke in terms of encountagement and praise for Scattle's business community.

List of the Beaviest Losses, With the Probable Brief of Their Suffering and Insurance Incidents of the Day.

SEATTLE, W. T., June 7 .- At 3 o'clock this morning the great fire in this city had practically burned itself out, having reached as far as the gas works on Jackson street, and as far as the dry docks, the fumber yards continuing to burn brightly and the wharvas toward the northern part of the town street.

The queen city of the Sound presents an annaling sight this evening. The awfut dis-sister swept down upon it so suddenly that in less than twelve hours, 120 acres of the business portlon of the city were wiped out of existence, nothing remaining to-night that thinkness would where two days are of existence, nothing remaining to-night but blackened walls where two days ago were busy-scenes of fittiness activity.

Beginning at the foot of University street the boundary of the burnt district rims east to Front street, thence south half way to Spring-street, thence east again to Second street, along Scoond street to James, up James to Third, and thence along South Third street to the water's edge. In this immense territory not a single building can mense lerritory not a single building escaped the fury of the sea of fire. In this property was included, the water front, or commercial wherees of the city, the whole loss representing $10,000,000, upon which there is an incurrence of but about $1,000,000.

But a Migic important business building, fire Boston block, in which the postoflice is located; is left standing, and it was greatly storched by the fire. The residence portion of the city-remains practically untouched, and the beaviest portlon of the losses will fall upon those tiest able to support them and to replace the property which has been destroyed. Will this be done? Will this terrible blow kill Seattle, or robuild it grander than ever? Its people are brave. They brave already sprung into the breach, and its citizens, none of whom were panie-stricken, have proclaimed today, in a large public meeting at Armory hall, at which Mayor Moran-presided; that the work of rebuilding shall begin at once. Ex. Governor Watson C. Dispater has seemed, with rethe past week, to have trodden with more than usual swiftness uppn the heel of calamity The record written in the dest-uction of a pop ulous and prosperous city of the East, had not yet completed its terrible catalogue of death and loss and suffering when a tale of destruction almost as sudden and reintivity as complete, has been reco ded through fire in a Western city | The disasters that befel the two cutes are not similar in degree since the death list of Johnstown is a pa thetic feature that is fortunately wanting in the calamity that greatook Scattle vet in the matter of a complete willing out of their busines and properties the cities are alike

Help from those who are happily free from mislostune is imperative in both cases. The sub criptions to the Johns own fund 1 ad already aggregated a considerable sum in this city and arrangements had been made for a systematic canvass for more when this new demand upon our people appeared Tacoma responded nobly and without solicitation to the distress that was borne along the Sound from Seattle and Portland can do m less Such donations are not in the nature of charring They are the offerings of saltstantial sympathy and generous good will that humanity is ever ready to extend in misfortune, an exponent of the faith that men have in the energy and worth of their friends and a desire, everywhere manifest, when others are borne down by an overpow ering element, to help them to rise again proud and energetic city of Western Wash ington is dead. The flames in a few hours demonstrated their power to destroy the ac cumulations of the energy and industry of years but the spirit that directed and created Scattle s prospertty is not troken by disaster The blow that she has received was a stan gering one bu it is not mucrtal and the en terprise that gave rise to her prosperity will speedily recover her from the diminay that waits upon disaster and reassert its creative power Many who are sitting amid the blasted wreck of their household goods to day muy be m no mood to listen to words of hope and encouragement but within a short time they will be speaking reassuring words to each other and planning together ways and means by which their osses may be retrieved

When Whattier inspired by his houndless trust in human energy and generouty looked upon the smoking ums of stricken Chicago, in 4873 and said

Fair seemed the old, but fairer still I onew the dream vol I shall all

The incredulous smiled at he prophecy, regarding it as the utterince of a viscours old man who out of pity was prompted to s is something to encourage the house css" A very slort time however, sufficed to prove the wisdom of the prediction, and a few years fully serified it

Sprittioneeds assistance but will not her multitude of ufferers over the present a rese that finds them homeless is mayed and be wildered. An energetic people rise at ly to their feet after a prostrut og blow A helping hand is all that they require Portland now must extend that helping bind Scattle is not a suppliant but she has many who are in need Today there will be a canvass for subscriptions. Let every citi zen of Fortland be prepared to make a gen erous response with money for Seattle And Johnstown must still be remembered too

FARATIVE VALUE

The American Economist remarks that United States to show the superiority of the former But they use the nord trade as if it comprised exclusively trade with for-e gn countries. They do not refer to home tante and apparently are utterly oblivious They appear to think it is el it. existence no vibre and therefore not to be nen n the category of the elements which constitute a ration's glo y and greatness. the meaning of the word trade to fo eight commerce, and kept hone tride out of sight that as a rule the writers of other na tions have fullen into the same habit possible that this neglect of home trade is partly due to the difficulty of exertaining the amount of the home taile of a nation the amount of the home taile of a nation Foreign trade is easily ascertained from the roreign thate ye can't necessary the From the can be kept at the norts. No such record can be kept of the details or amount of internal trade. Yet in recent years estimate of this internal trade may be made with reasonable accuracy from the census report the records of transportation compared in the stanshold returns of yet confered buryons. Pursuing the subject the I count I call makes that the home tride of the United blakes adjounts to not less thing on $100,000,000 per north. From the stitutes of the treasury we had the foreign countries of the countries. ure we him the foreign count ever of the country mounts to a hout $1.4 Messon form into But there comes in another it put in consideration. It is concered by economic that in a mercial country method in the second to the interest two probes both of which a crue to the bengent of the nation. On the other land and foreign commerce only also foreign commerce only also the profits is for the benefit of the country in which it is carried on. The other is for the country with which it is carried on. Therefore home with which it is carried on Therefore home trade as regards its advantages for any country is worth twice as much as fereign trade and to misse a fur comparison be-tween the home and the foreign trade of the tween the gome and put to teger came of the United States as regards their respective contributions to the profits of the nation we should make the proportion n $40 (5) (80 000 as to,$1 400(00 000 or as 50 000 to 1400 In. other world the foreign commerce of the United States, is north to the country about one thirty hith as much rejour ho ne rade There is however still another consideration which affects this con Insion tion which affects this con lition.

The home trade confitting test at every step to home industries and a going others to the profits of fram port from Our forcing commerce is chiefly carried quiltin forcing whips and contributes nothing or but hile to American high try. The circumstance of the investment of the circumstance of American little try The circumstance to an important degree offsets the one profit which we derive from such trade. The proments for irright to foreign 1 into 8 going out of the country about a trage part of the profit which this country pinkes from foreign trade. If this be true the import nee of foreign commerce becomes still more in in feant as compared with home trade and the need of prompt action to build up our own shaming headness more lear than ever beneed of prompt action to build up our own shipping becomes more less than ever be-fore. It becomes evide it ido that a it we fore it becomes evide in the interest what have built up our own shipping, and our do our own international carrying trade all measures for the promotion of trade with foreign countries are of little-paide.

Two distinct propositions result from the incalculably greater importance than foreign trade under any encum stances, and therefore should have the pracedence and preferings in all trade legislation. Second, that the first step toward the enlargement of our foreign commerce should be the promotion and protection of American shapping until the emolutionis of our international trans portation shall accrue to the people of this artestan wells have proved of immense advantage in the Iry Instricts of California, and h we been worth millions there to fruitgrowers and othe s. The natural formation of the earth will indicate where such wells of the easth will ind cate where such wells an be made to work and our Eastern country should in cour e of time, develop caput it to produce them. At Heppiner the people have been trying to work up such a project and it is finally left for the town council. A comiting of citizens will be far more likely to succeed and it is in postant that the project shall be pushed if only to decide 1 arksian wells can be secured in the Columbia basin. Senator Stanford is confi dent that the wast arld district extending from Mexico to British Columbia, with an

IT WAS A GENUINE CIRCUS. Gay Old Time on Board Two Barges that Came

There have been quite a number of steambouts and burges brought down over the Cascades, first and last, but the bringing down of two birges and their crews and cargoes, for the Columnia River Lumber & Fuel Company a day or two since, was the greatest circus performance that ever look place, on the graids ect circus performance, that ever took place, on the rapids.

The barge came from the site of Rorthwick's, m'll, on the Middle Co unbis, and brought fown in lot of plander from the camp therefor the new mill and camp on the Lower Columbia. On one of the barges were about 100 hogs, which had been talsed in the camp, and also a pet bear, which has spent most of his life in the camp. This, pet was a paced in the bold of the barge, and an appelhor laid on the hatchway to keep him down.

an ancho-land on the antaway to seep and down.

The only live stock on the other barge was a lot of loggers, one of wrom, in old sait, was at the wheel. When the barges leaped the first descent and got among the whirling, funnbling, seething waters, everybody culboard began to feel uneasy. The bear pushed away the batch, anchor and all, and sprang on dock and waitzed around frantically among the hogs, creating a terrible row.

On the other barge some one said something to the old sait at the whest derogatory to his ability as cantain, and he dropped the wheel and went for his slanderer there and then and a general fight er sued, which created in uppear only second to the bear and the pigs on the other barge. As this entertainment was going on, the barges were whirling gaily along down the rapids, ortuinately missing the rocks, gliding between Scylia and Charybdis, as it were. One of the proprietors of the menageric attempted to seize the wheel abandoned by the old sail, but it had got on the fight too and nearly knocked a hand off him.

If the management will repeat the show and give due notice beforehand they will have an immense audience. Those who came over did not want to repeat the trip, but were willing to put up all their coin to see the old sail and the bear make the trip with a whole barge to themselves.

The Litt's Daughter of George F. Johnson Statians Fainful Injuries in a Runaway.

About 70 clock yesterday evening Piora Maud, he 9-yeur-old daughter of George F. Johnson, a salesman for Wadhams, & Co., met, with a painful, though not very serious accident, by being thrown from a buggy at the corner of Front and Morrison streets.

Mr. Johnson had left the little girl, holding the horrs in front of Rev. Arthur J. Brown a house at the corner of Eleventh and Aller streets, while he was talking with Mr. Brown at the front porch.

The forse took fright frombonne unknown cause and Starked down Alder street at a rapid rate of speed. It steered clear of all vehicles as far as front street and thef wheeled to the right and continued up that street. A number of hacks were stationed in froit of the Esmond liotel and a heavy dray was standing across the sfreet. In trying to pass between the backs and the day the runawny steed collider with he latter, and the Richest and the about ix feet in the air and, she came down on the hard pavenient, striking on her right shoulder. One of the hind wheels passed over her body.

Ehe was at once picked up and carried into a room in the Esmond hotel. Drs. J. F. Bell and R. H. Smith made an examination of her injuries, but found no bones broker. She had a bad cut on the right shoulder and car and severe bruises about the chest, and the lattle girl was removed to her home, No. 331 Sixth street.

The nan can can can can be holy to the winter quarters, and thrives on hilk together with grain, and a nibble at a wisp of hay; by the time spring comes his digestive apparatus has expanded until it can hold enough green grass to make it work while transping over the pasture to obtain it; his hide has thickened up and he has strongth enough to fight the fless while grazibg, so that he is in condition to make a fair gain during the whole season. It is not so well, however, with the calf dropped in the spring, for, though early turned on grass, his digestion of grass is poor, and between his imperfect diet and the numerous attacks of the fles, life is but a burden. Such a calf goes life winter quarters without having made satisfactory growth in imany cases, and not intil the second summer is the hasture of much value to him. Let more cibles come into this world is the fail of the year.

But there, are other reasons in favor of having the cows fresh in the fall. Butter sells in winter for better prices than g does in 8 mmer, and with hir daily conveniences; its not so difficult to make a frac-class article at that seas in as houndstimmer. ## FUTURE OF CATTLE.

FUTURE OF CATTLE.

A ger tleman, who possesses unisual facilities for acquiring accurate information touching the cattle range interest, remarked in our lieucing a few days ago that, from the best data he had been able to gather, he was satisfied that the production of cattle on the range—(that is, the actual raising of cattle on the range—(that is, the actual raising of cattles on the past three years. He remarked in this condiction that the reason why this great reduction in the product of the range country had not all racy seriously affected the market for beef was found in the fact that the supply of 3-year-old steers has not been very greatly lessened; it was when the range product—the calves of this and the preceding two years—began to come into the market that the reduced supply would be felt. And then the began to speculate on the probable result of this raige supply upon the general cattle interests of the country. Our friend argued that the production of cattle of a large scale on free ranges was practically a thing of the past, and that henceforth both food and shelter must be provided, excepting in a few favored oscilities. He added that alfalfa, prodused, by means of irrigation in the valleys, must be the chief resource of winter food, but that when it came to this, most of the adra langes which these cattle men had hither to enjoyed over those of Illinois. Iowa and Missouri would be gone. It seemed to be his sectled opinion that the country would wake up to the fact in a year or two more that I the short of a beef famine would be upon us, and that utilinately the production of beef involved be relegated to the great corning as produced cheaper than in any other part (it me United States in 1825. Or, What is Its Equivalent a Good,

Soaking Rain.

So the People of Grand -Ronde Valley Consider It-Demand for Real Estate but Net a Speculative Craze

LA GRAPDE. June 6.

LA GRAFDE, June 6.

The heavy rain, reported fr.m this place last week which, to a limited extent was mired up with hall, has proved most beneficial to the country in general, and the Grand Ronde farmer rests in perfect content with an assurance of an abundanterop. Hall fell only in a limited portion of the valley, and the rain, which was a regular soaker, measuring an average of one inch, was of incalculable benefit to the fields of hay and egrain. With the present outlook for grain and hay, the railroad company will have a busy season this fall in transporting the same to market.

The freight business of the road from this point is estimated to have intreased threefold over a corresponding beriod of last year, notwithstanding the fact that this is considered about the duffer; season of the year for freight business. Yesterday the out freight from La Grande, including four, eatified and limiter, amounted to a whole train load, and this is about ahaver ge with other days of the week. It is not an over estimate to place the "average arrount of out-treights at two train loads per day. At present four regular freigh business, there will be after the grain has been harver ge with other casional extras, are ron, uaily, and it is impossible to estimate with an accuracy the amount of freight business; there will be after the grain has been harvested.

A new real estate firm oponed up for business a few days ago, and will, shortly throw on the market a tract tying between La Grande and Ord Dell. This tract includes 200 acres, which will be laid out in blocks of one acre each. The ground is adjacent to the fronde and order beground is adjacent to the proposed site of the Grand konde Lumber Company's plant. The proprietor of the new addition, mentioned in last week's Orsoonian, has adopted the plan of grading streets and laying sidewalks. throughout the entire addition, and has a large amount of materiat contracted for these improvements. Notwithstanding the fact that the sales of real-cetate have increased with astoundi been sold at any extravagan; figures, there is a stendily increasing demand for such property at fair prices.

The immber districts in the mountains above the Grande now present a busy scene, and all the lumber, and it contractors are pushing things, with a rus! in order to fill their contracts. One firm has a contract for the delivery of 700,000 railroad ties this season. These ties are all for shipment East and will be used by the Union Pacific and Denvir & Rio Grande roads.

Work on the big elevator is under full headway, there being about fifty men employed, including carpenters and stons masons. This first shipment of lumber for the big structure included twenty carloads, all of which was shipped from the mills at Mulmoman Fails, from whence all the lumber for Messis. Peavoy & Co.'s elevators is furnished.

The railroad company has a work train and force of fifty men at work grading side-tracks and improving the yards. The work train crew is composed entirely of white men, as there are no Chinese now employed by the clevator, represents in the least calculation, 100 men, who have been added to the regular number of laborers in the Grande during the past week.

Subscriptions to the amount of about $1000 have been raised for the forthcoming celebration, which is calculated to be on a more extensive scale than every extrempted in this section. Hon. L. I. Marthur, United States district attorney for Oregon, has been selected as orator of the day.

The O. R. & N. surveyors, who have been doing preliminary we'k on a proposed branch from La Grande to Wallowa county, are still in the field. Their work so far has been confined principally to the Grande Ronde canyon, beyond this valley. Their labors, 56 far have demonstrated that the distance to the mount of wallow river is about eight miles norther than has been generally supposed. After leaving Indian valley, thirty miles norther two which the proposed line passes is rich in a stural resources and only needs the means of easy socess, which the railroad will supply

MASS MEETING LAST EVENING. itisens Decide to Give Up the Fourth of July Celebrailqu

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock an advisory meeting of a number of the prominent business men of Portland was held in the private parlors of the Oregon National pank, to consider what steps should be taken for the relial of the devastated city of Stattle. Among those present were Mayor DeLashmutt' presiding; H. W. Scott, C. H. Dodd. Donald Macicay, C. F. Backe, John R. Foster, W. W. Spaudding, F. R. Mellis and Benjamit I. Cohen.

Mayor DeLashmutt, in voicing the senti-ment of the meeting, sent the following dis-

their views on the subject, D. Solia Cohen said:

"I for one, am decidedly in tavor of turning the money that the Fourth of July committee have collected, over to the citizens of Seattle, who need it more these Portland does a gelebration of the Fourth of July 1 think that between the terrible news we have recurred from Johnstown, followed by the sad details of the fire at Seattle, the splitt of the Fourth of July has Julen out. From what I heard on the streets looday, and I have talked with a great many. I am natified that the 'unaninois feeling of the Subscribers to the celebration fund, is to turn it over to our friends in Seattle. I think, further, that the larger number who have pour but to the find are willing to dout le and eyen trible their subscribions. I think our first any is to Seattle. Johnstow, is a long ways off, while the Queen Dity is atmost our next door neighbor. As

I think our first duty is the Scattle. Johnstown, is a long ways off, while the Queen City is almost our next door notighor. As There already said, I am in favor of turning the celebration fund over to Scattle, and I am satisfied that the majority of you will agree with me.

Mr. Cohon's remarks werevery chilustastically received, and several expressed themselves as "them's my sentuments" on being called on for their views. One gentleman thought that these who subscribed to the Fourth of July fund would be unwilling to have the celebration dropped, but were perfectly willing to subscribe to a separate fund for the relief of the people of Scattle. He thought that an independent fund of any desired amount could be raised for the latter persons on very short notice.

T. A. Stevens followed in an eloquent speech against a celebration; sayling that the criticeus of Portunity would no have the heart to burth up so inner money when it could be put to each excellent use as the opportunity now presented itself was at hand.

Mayor Delassamutt was here called to the chair and asked his advice in he mater. He said that he was heartly in favor of the lant to give the $100010 Scattle, which needed it.

Mf. Stevens then offered the following resregisting the convassing committee. Finally Mayor Delangment named the committee of fifteen published in the last issue of The Oberonian with the suggestion that they carry two subscription books, one for the Belone that those called on to subscribe sufferers, that those called on to subscribe sufferers, that those called on to subscribe might have the choice of which direction they want their money to go, adjourned.

Before the meeting had hardly proken up Reigne & Coursen and Thomas at Fordan had put their name down in a "Seattle" Shook for $10 each.

NO WART OF AUTHORITY.

Speaking of the statement made that there was no one here who had authority to send was no one here who had authority to send out a special train to carry a fire engine and a crew of men from Portland to Seattle, Mr. A. D. Charlion, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern "scille, said: "We had authority, of course, to criter out a special train at any time and under all circumistances, when any emergency requires it. An engine and cars were, ordered to be in readiness at once to proceed with all disputsh to the scene of the fire. Of course, some little unavoidable delay resulted for we could not start out a special without first knowing where all the trains were, and thus have a clear track. Whatever other delay followed was due to the fact that the crew and fire engine were not ready to start from followed was due to the fact that the crew and fire engine were not ready to start from her. We had, of course," said Mr. Charlton, "authority'to send out a special train, and we lost no time in getting everything in reaciness just as quickly as possible, after securing word that help was required?" Both Mr. Charlton and S. E. l'atton descree great credit for their prompt in offon in rendering all the aid possible in kentitie's extremity. Everything in the way 5 supplies will be forwarded over the Northern Pacific lines to Seattle free of charge, with all possible haste.

MY GREAT CRISTS.

Our firm, Searing & Grayton, commission our firm, Searing & Grayton, commission merchants, was not a very important on at the time of which I am about to tell you, but it was doing well and growing. We shad one half of a big down-town store in New York, where my partner, Nat/Searing, was in charge, and I ran our Western branch in St. Louis, where I had a good many friends and was an good I he marked to 'a very. and was engaged to be married to a very heautiful and fashion ble young lady, Miss Helen Daviess. One morning I received this egram: Ir. David Grayton, Third Street, A. Louis: wing left for Canalla last night. BAGLEY Searing left for chain in single Bugley was our bookkeeper in the New York office. I was paralyzed with aston shament and horror. The first idea that flushed upon me was that my partner had been or-erating far beyond our capital, probably taking flyers on the street, had found him-self inextricably involved, and, distributing what he could from the wreck, had fiel across the border. His flight argued some thing criminal in his operations. It was terrible. Bagley no doubt meant well in trying to hide the disaster and shame as long as be gible. Bagiey no doubt meant well in trying to hide the disaster and shame as long as he could, but why had he not been a little more explicit? Again and again I wared to him for more facts, but got no replic. I suppose he was keeping away from the affice to avoid creditors and legal process la d other unpleasantnesses. but, as I subsequently learned, he was simply, playing billiards. While I was ball-wild with an niety, Helm shoother Henry—he spelled his name Henri—which may give you some idea of the club—called upon me. He was no good, a mere club-house loader, gambling when he had money, drinking much more than anything elee, and protessing contentiation for business as "vulgaw," still I tolorated him, because he was Haem's brother. Me came, as he told me, without any drilldenes or circumlocution, to "bouch me for a century"—or, in plain language, to borrow $100 that he would never dream of repaying—oenable him to "play the races" that afternoon. Annoyed and excited as I was, I unthinkingty old him how I believed myself eithated, and said that I didn't really know whether I had $100, or even one that I might rightfully call my own. Fix ally, it let him bave half the sum he demanded and he went away only half us ungrateful as he would have been if he had got the hundred, I pre-

The next morning, after an ight of sleep-less anxiety, I got from Bagley the reply.

"He has gone. That is all I know about

He has youe. That is all I know about the "Bagley must be drunk, I said to myself. All that long, miserable day I tried to open communication with a legal friend in New York, but in vain. He was off "stumping the state" in a pclitical campaing, as I alkerward learned. It seemed to me that I would have to go to New York to straightein matters out, yet leaving St. Louis now, if a crash was to come, was hazardous. People might may that I had run awiy.

That evening "called upon Helen. Nobody who has not been through such an order as mine o'in know how sick at sou! I was for some affectionate, e cauraging sympathy in my distress, and naturally I inraed to the pith who wis, to be my wife to find it. She was not alone, as I had hoped to find her, as she knew I was to call that evening. A brakeniess young fop named Diageon—a fellow of about her was to call that evening.

A brakeniess young fop named Diageon—a fellow of about her brother Hann's callider—but the only son of a rich man, was with her, and also was doine har bearing in in fellow of about her brother Henri's caliber— but his only son of a rich man, was with her, and she was doing her best to onlertain him. "Ah, indeed!" she replied eathly, with an intenation of merely points fatterest, not at all personal concern.

"Yes." I continued, though a little chit ed by her manner, "I do not know yet that it is positively so, but I fear that Searing & Grayton have failed, and that an reinned."

"Henri mention d'something about it to, me to-day. I think he said that your partier had skipped to Canada."

"It is hard for one to think hadly of Natwhom I have known all my I fe, but that rewhom I have known all my I le, but that report has been telegraphed to me, and I have not yet been able to learn a ything to the engagements."

"Well," I replied, not wishing to understand in her werds the meaning that I feared: "Are you willing to marry me at once and join mg in the strungle that I may have before me? I it, o, nothing in, the world could make me happier, strong it or surer of

"No," she rejoired, "I am not willing. To be Irank with you; I could not content in year as the wife of a struggling poor man, who could not afford to give me the lift to which I am accustomed."

Yes; I do not wish either to be a burden terrout, or to waste the heat years of my her in waiting for a man who possibly may not I pleaded and reasoned with her, but unnyaling. She had builded torether, in hir pocket, ready to hand me, all my letters and her engagement ring; so her course had been deliberately determined upon in advance of my coming. She cave them all to me, and I went away opporessed by the most inter feeling of includess and chill misery that I ever expecienced.

The hext day I got amote from Mr. Abraham Ticknor, a well-known St. Louis lawyer, reducating me to call upo ashim at once. "The ernsty has come." I said to myself. "He spacking for the New York creditors." Still I went to him. I had done no wrong, and hid/nothing to concent. I could face anybody. He greeted me p cassarity, seated me in his private office, and Rid.

I understand that you are involved in some business difficulties. "I replied that was my catterstanding also, and frankly told him allythat I knew, or thought I knew, about the situation. He listened gravely, and when I had concluded asked!

what sun would tide you over and save yon from hankruptey?"

"Three no more les than the Grand-Cham has," I ropided. "I cannot see how Nat could have let us in for more than fitteen or twenty thousand, but he may have drowned us for half a million, for all I know or owned us or that a manner. On the contentry, "Dolpon think you could pull through if you had $70,000 in hand?" I said: that I was sure I could. That much ready cash would step a mighty big hole. "Very well," he said. "I am instructed, if that sum will save you, to hand it to you—as that sum will save you, it. hand it to you—us a loan."

"Who lend i me $20,000?" I gasped,
"I am not at liberty to tell you."

"Your persimit note, it twelve months, drawilto be will be enough."

I could not express my feelings. My eyes were, dim and there was a lump in my throat. He saw my agitation and kindly recalled my self-control by his methodical practicality. He had then bits all rendy for the to sign, and the $20,000 m. a portfolio on his desk. I took the moner with the understanding that I might return it and requiring my note if the sum should be either unfecessary or manifelent.

tature. Quite the reverse. Leonia not wast for mail explanations. Even the telegraph semed six w.

As it turned out, he had seized a spledid bushess opportunity by a nun over to Canada, had written all about it to me before starling, and told Bagley simply to wire that he had go ic. His letter was destroyed, with a lot of other mail matter, in a railroad catastrophe a Caio, and that left me all at sen. The Canada business I may interpolite, was the foundation of the present solidity and wealth of our firm.

When I took the $20,00 back to Mr. Ticknor the next morning he laughed and congratulated Ire hearthy. Then I begged him to tell include had so generously come, to my aid. For isome time be was obdurate, but limitly, when I isoidentally mentioned the breaking off of my engagement with thelen Daviess, he reflected a little, and then, almost swearing me that I would not reveal his betways of confidence, told me that it was Mary Long, Helen's cousin, who had so kindly put almost the wbole of kerpairate fortune at my disposal to kaye me from supposed financial ruling She had beauted.

Consuses in the United States and England. Carroll D. Wrighten North American Review. The question is often asked, Why cannot the United States census he taken in one day, as is done in England and many conti-nental countries? The reasons are obvious on redection. In the first place, England, which we will take for an example, is a comwhich we will take for all experiences of government being concentrated at the authoral capital. The constabulary is national, and the census is taken il rough it. The skeleton of the body of enumerators always exists. The enlargement occurs through the appointbody of enumerators always exists. The enlargement occurs through the appointment of terriporary constitutes, working with the permanent constability force. This gives England—and like conditions exist in other countries—a force always in existence, or easily brought into existence, for tensus purposes. Each constable is supplied with a proper quantity of blanks for a very small district. These is distributes one any and collects the next. They are to be filled out by the head of the household, and has to contain the names and facts relating to each person live inglunder the roof at midnight. The United States government has no force which can be enlarged to a proper extent for a one-day celisus. This fact alone would prevent our government from following the methods adopted in Europe. But there is another reason which would entirely, prevent the adoption of the European method. The schedule for the English and continental ecusives is a very small affair, comprehending but few inquiries relating to the name, relation to head of family, condition (whether single married, tet), sex, are at last birt day, the profession or occupation, place of birth, and whether deaf, dumb or billed. This constitutes the whole English the stable the state of the family of inquires, relating to a mercus comprehending the facts we have seen, a very great number of inquires, relating to a mercus topics.

BOOMING THE NEHALEM,

To the Editor of The Oreconant

I think it is my daty if certain schemes are concocted, concerning not alone this small community and Thlomook countribut the interest of Eortania and even the state at large, to give them to the public One of these schemes is now sefore the citizens and the country jour: of Tillamook country. Chus. Robeson, of Hobsonville circulated a petition to be presented to the country court, saking that the exclusive right for booms and the nebessary rights
